

MONTREAL TUESDAY, JULY 9 1895.

Levy's Circus

and greatest show that comes to Montreal so we the leaders in advertising; and as a proof of this, the first opportunity of making an advertising from 657 to 665, Craig street and over the Drug department extends over Mr. Lyons' drug store; Clothing for Men, Youths and Boys occupies the g occupied for Reserve Stock and Tailor's Workunks and Valises.

always pleased to show encourage us by a visit.

er, Clothier, Shoeist and Outfitter

Montreal.

ALTON
BUFFALO.

E C. P. R'S
TION.

Outlet East
Buffalo—The Vanderbilts

ocal paper has by which the
to get control dton & Buffalo ough. Repre-
York Central,
an Pacific and falo met at the nd signed the ract. Accord-the deal the erate the line as soon as it
of the Toronto, em, consisting d to Welland, Vanderbilt inific will have direct to the New d will put on ill to incorpor-& Buffalo has the Railway
an Parliament.
a clause had company re-ts incurred by are chiefly for at the meeting second vice-
York Central;
trafic
York Central;
general traffic
Pacific; J. N.
agent of the
falo, and B. B.
agent of the

Courier says, at this deal has comes of great it insures an-into, breaks up has been ennk, and gives to the cance to the can-

THRILLING EXPERIENCE

OF A BAND OF SMUGGLERS IN THE LACHINE RAPIDS.

While "Running" Chinese Across the River at Caughnawaga Their War Canoe is Driven on a Reef at the Mouth of the Cataract.

Fourteen Chinamen, accompanied by three shrewd smugglers from this city, had a narrow escape from going over the Lachine Rapids early on Monday morning, while attempting to cross the St. Lawrence from Lachine to Caughnawaga, on their way to Uncle Sam's domains.

The wily Chinese, finding that the new route to the United States via the Sorel Islands was discovered, abandoned that channel in quick order and directed their attention to pastures new. Together, with the smugglers, they hit upon an ingenious scheme, a little risky perhaps, but completely safe from the vigilant eye of the United States Customs officers and Treasury officials, as they thought.

This time they would run across the river a mile above the Lachine Rapids in a large Indian war canoe, and land in a cove dangerously surrounded by reefs, where pursuit would be impossible.
When arranging for this trip, the Chinese miscalculated the dangers of the St. Lawrence at this point, and let nothing come into their minds but their one ambition, to cross to the land of the free.

On Monday morning, at 3.30, the party left Montreal for Lachine, comfortably encompassed in a large covered express waggon. They arrived at the place designed for their perilous trip near the Canadian Pacific bridge, and after scouting around for some time to see that the coast was clear, embarked in a large Indian war canoe that was in waiting near the rendezvous. It was first arranged to make for a cove above the bridge, but the "guide" misjudged the current at this point, and instead of "striking out" a mile further up the river, let go the ropes from the hiding place. As soon as the big war canoe, with its load of human freight, caught the swiftly running current it swerved quickly round, and in an instant shot between the two shore abutments of the bridge with lightning speed.

Out into the current glided the canoe, and in several minutes the party was in the centre of the swift current of the St. Lawrence. Down, down, they sped, the paddlers working like Trojans, but making little headway to the opposite shore. Back in the wake towered the bridge, and in the distance could be seen the white caps and spray from the turbulent waters of the Lachine Rapids. The canoe now and anon would rise on the heavy swells that were rapidly drawing it towards the cataract of rushing waters.

The occupants now, for the first time, realized their danger, and for a time lost their heads. The paddlers, worn out, quickly changed places with the more robust of the Celestials. Then commenced the race for life. With every plunge of the paddles the canoe rose on the heavy swells and but its way through the small white caps. It was a case of life or death. On they went; the current getting swifter and the swells heavier. Less than a quarter of a mile off could be seen the raging cataract of the Rapids. One hundred yards distant was the shore for which they had risked so much. The work was laborious, but slowly the canoe forged ahead, but as it did so it was carried down stream sideways. Nearer and nearer they approached, until finally the prow of the canoe rounded the reef opposite the rapids and grazed upon the sand of the cove.

All round the spot raged the turbulent waters, and the noise of the rapids two hundred yards distant from shore caused many of the party to utter a word of thanks at their escape from such a narrow call. It is doubtful if another party of Celestials, anxious to gain access to Uncle Sam's domains will undertake another such trip.

The whole party went inward with the evident intention of "crossing the line" near Hemmingford and Huntingdon.

city this morning on their way to Oka, Lake of Two Mountains, to take part in an agricultural convention which opened there to-day, and which will last three days. The farmers of the entire county are largely represented, and a cordial welcome was given to the visitors on their arrival. Addresses are to be given by Messrs. E. A. Bernard, J. de L.
Tache, H. Nagant, Rev. Abbe L. O.
Tremblay, G. A. Gigault, A. Marsan, J. C.
Chapais, J. Fletcher and others. Experiments in connection with the subjects treated will be made at four o'clock daily at the Trappists' Monastery, which has been thrown open to visitors.

THE BRITISH ELECTIONS.

Mr. Gladstone Issues a Short Pronouncement.

London, July 9.—The Royal proclamation dissolving the British Parliament fixes the date of the assembling of the next Parliament at August 1.

The bulk of the provincial elections will take place on Saturday next, and the elections in London will occur on Monday.

The lists issued last evening show that there are 118 seats without Liberal candidates, and twenty without Unionist candidates.

AGAINST THE CZAR'S LIFE.

It Was Discovered and the Plotters
Arrested.

Paris, July 9.—The Journal's correspondent at St. Petersburg announces the discovery near Moscow of an extensive conspiracy against the life of the Czar.
The chief of the secret police, after tracing the conspiracy for over a month, has succeeded in arresting eight of the conspirators, who include six recently pardoned nihilists. The Czar has rewarded the chief of police with a present of ten thousand roubles.

Count Tolstoi.

An acquaintance of Tolstoi says that the Russian writer is one of the most profound scholars in Europe, having not only a complete knowledge of European literature, both ancient and modern, but an equally complete knowledge of Asiatic.
"He is a voracious reader," it is added, and after he was fifty years of age he learned Hebrew, in order to study the Old Testament more fully. His favorite English author is Matthew Arnold. He is a man of the very widest culture and attainments, but he is anxious to share his knowledge with other people. He has been engaged for the past ten years on a work which he calls the "Library of the People." In this he is endeavoring to gather together the finest thoughts of the best thinkers of all ages and countries. To carry this out, he has been going through the literature of all countries—Chinese, Sansarit, Hindoo, Greek, Roman, and modern. His only hope is to live until this great work is finished. Tolstoi has his own ideas about the value of different authors, and many of those whom the world holds in high esteem will not find a place in the "Library of the People."

Gold in Russia.

Recent statistics tend to show that Russia holds the third place among gold producing countries. The precious metal however, is only found in large quantities in the Ural Mountains and East West Siberia. And even there the production fluctuates considerably. During the decade 1884-93 it was greatest in 1890, when the output reached 3,277 kilogrammes (equal to about 7,300 lbs.), gradually sinking to 39,020 kilogrammes (88 tons), and subsequently again rising to 39,406 kilogrammes in 1890, or upwards of 89 tons.
The output in the Ural Mountains and in West Siberia (says Industries) appears to be steadily increasing, while there is a falling off in Eastern Siberia, with the exception of the Amur district. In the period from 1884 to 1892 East Siberia alone has yielded more than 1000 tons of gold.
The expense of working varies so considerably that deposits which are regarded as well worth working in the Ural district are left entirely unworked in the Amur district.

MEDICAL.

HERE'S A

The Best Value ever A complete Suit of

PYJAMAS :

Fine Soft Wool
Silk and Wool
Extra Quality

J. J. HANN

215 St.

Use Your Own

When you buy Shirts, s on the yoke is

THRILLING EXPERIENCE

OF A BAND OF SMUGGLERS IN THE LACHINE RAPIDS.

While "Running" Chinese Across
the River at Caughnawaga Their
War Canoe is Driven on a Reef
at the Mouth of the Cataract.

Fourteen Chinamen, accompanied by three shrewd smugglers from this city, had a narrow escape from going over the Lachine Rapids early on Monday morning, while attempting to cross the St. Lawrence from Lachine to Caughnawaga, on their way to Uncle Sam's domains.

The wily Chinese, finding that the new route to the United States via the Sorel Islands was discovered, abandoned that channel in quick order and directed their attention to pastures new. Together, with the smugglers, they hit upon an ingenious scheme, a little risky perhaps, but completely safe from the vigilant eye of the United States Customs officers and Treasury officials, as they thought.

This time they would run across the river a mile above the Lachine Rapids in a large Indian war canoe, and land in a cove dangerously surrounded by reefs, where pursuit would be impossible. When arranging for this trip, the Chinese miscalculated the dangers of the St. Lawrence at this point, and let nothing come into their minds but their one ambition, to cross to the land of the free.

On Monday morning, at 3.30, the party left Montreal for Lachine, comfortably ensconced in a large covered express waggon. They arrived at the place designated for their perilous trip near the Canadian Pacific bridge, and after scout-city this morning on their way to Oka, Lake of Two Mountains, to take part in an agricultural convention which opened there to-day, and which will last three days. The farmers of the entire county are largely represented, and a cordial welcome was given to the visitors on their arrival. Addresses are to be given by Messrs. E. A. Bernard, J. de L. Tache, H. Nagant, Rev. Abbe L. O. Tremblay, G. A. Gigault, A. Marsan, J. O. Chapais, J. Fletcher and others. Experiments in connection with the subjects treated will be made at four o'clock daily at the Trappists' Monastery, which has been thrown open to visitors.

THE BRITISH ELECTIONS.

Mr. Gladstone Issues a Short Pronouncement.

London, July 9.—The Royal proclamation dissolving the British Parliament fixes the date of the assembling of the next Parliament at August 1.

The bulk of the provincial elections will take place on Saturday next, and the elections in London will occur on Monday.

The lists issued last evening show that there are 118 seats without Liberal candidates, and twenty without Unionist candidates.

AGAINST THE CZAR'S LIFE.

It Was Discovered and the Plotters
Arrested.

Paris, July 9.—The Journal's correspondent at St. Petersburg announces the discovery near Moscow of an extensive conspiracy against the life of the Czar. The chief of the secret police, after tracing the conspiracy for over a month, has succeeded in arresting eight of the conspirators, who include six recently pardoned Nihilists. The Czar has rewarded the chief of police with a present of ten thousand roubles.

Count Tolstoi.

An acquaintance of Tolstoi says that the Russian writer is one of the most profound scholars in Europe, having not only a complete knowledge of European literature, both ancient and modern, but an equally complete knowledge of Asiatic. "He is a voracious reader," it is added, and after he was fifty years of age he learned Hebrew, in order to study the Old Testament more fully. His favorite English author is Matthew Arnold. He is a man of the very widest culture and attainments, but he is anxious to share his knowledge with others.

ministrators all that was r the will effect have ons on the

St. Lawrence at this point and let no thing come into their minds but their
one ambition, to cross to the land of the free.

STORM.

Damage

Reports of three days

itory, and

ern water-from the line to storm.

struction of every tele-

an area of outhwestern enter. The orted from corpses have as many

er Springs, five per-nd eleven

a cyclone

. One per-us and two ouren, Ark.

re drowned

pped on the

Indian Ter-

their bea part of ft wood. At rainfall was ve persons

orts are re-

: Three at

Paola, Kas.;

and six of a

a Territory.

able loss of re increased permit a

in property

s.

from Mcndous rains

tuesday, six

ome locali-

out of the one to crops,

ton, there

s of water.

which ten

own over.

amed Snid-

On Monday morning, at 3.30, the party left Montreal for Lachine, comfortably ensconced in a large covered express waggon. They arrived at the place designated for their perilous trip near the Canadian Pacific bridge, and after scouting around for some time to see that the coast was clear, embarked in a large Indian war canoe that was in waiting near the rendezvous. It was first arranged to make for a cove above the bridge, but the "guide" misjudged the current at this point, and instead of "striking out" a mile further up the river, let go the ropes from the hiding place. As soon as the big war canoe, with its load of human freight, caught the swiftly running current it swerved quickly round, and in an instant shot between the two shore abutments of the bridge with lightning speed.

Out into the current glided the canoe, and in several minutes the party was in the centre of the swift current of the St. Lawrence. Down, down, they sped, the paddlers working like Trojans, but making little headway to the opposite shore. Back in the wake towered the bridge, and in the distance could be seen the white caps and spray from the turbulent waters of the Lachine Rapids. The canoe now and anon would rise on the heavy swells that were rapidly drawing it towards the cataract of rushing waters.

The occupants now, for the first time, realized their danger, and for a time lost their heads. The paddlers, worn out, quickly changed places with the more robust of the Celestials. Then commenced the race for life. With every plunge of the paddles the canoe rose on the heavy swells and cut its way through the small white caps. It was a case of life or death. On they went; the current getting swifter and the swells heavier. Less than a quarter of a mile off could be seen the raging cataract of the rapids. One hundred yards distant was the shore for which they had risked so much. The work was laborious, but slowly the canoe forged ahead, but as it did so it was carried down stream sideways. Nearer and nearer they approached, until finally the prow of the canoe rounded the reef opposite the rapids and grazed upon the sand of the cove.

All round the spot raged the turbulent waters, and the noise of the rapids two hundred yards distant from shore caused many of the party to utter a word of thanks at their escape from such a narrow call. It is doubtful if another party of Celestials anxious to gain access to Uncle Sam's domains will undertake another such trip.

The whole party went onward with only a complete knowledge of European literature, both ancient and modern, but an equally complete knowledge of Asiatic. "He is a voracious reader," it added, and after he was fifty years of age he learned Hebrew, in order to study the Old Testament more fully. His favorite English author is Matthew Arnold. He is a man of the very widest culture and attainments, but he is anxious to share his knowledge with other people. He has been engaged for the past ten years on a work which he calls the "Library of the People." In this he is endeavoring to gather together the finest thoughts of the best thinkers of all ages and countries. To carry this out, he has been going through the literature of all countries—Chinese, Sanscrit, Hindoo, Greek, Roman, and modern. His only hope is to live, until this great work is finished. Tolstoi has his own ideas about the value of different authors, and many of those whom the world holds in high esteem will not find a place in the 'Library of the People.'

Gold in Russia.

Recent statistics tend to show that Russia holds the third place among gold producing countries. The precious metal, however, is only found in large quantities in the Ural Mountains and East and West Siberia, and even there the production fluctuates considerably. During the decade 1830-93, it was greatest in 1830, when the output reached 43,277 kilogrammes (equal to about 43 tons), gradually sinking to 33,020 kilogrammes (33 tons), and subsequently again rising to 39,406 kilogrammes in 1890, or upwards of 39 tons. The output in the Ural Mountains and in West Siberia (says Industries) appears to be steadily increasing, while there is a falling off in Eastern Siberia, with the exception of the Amur district. In the period from 1834 to 1892 East Siberia alone has yielded more than 1000 tons of gold. The expense of working varies so considerably that deposits which are regarded as well worth working in the Ural district are left entirely unworked in the Amur district.

MEDICAL.

...ere injured, one named Snyder.
 Kas., July 9.—Four inches of here Sunday, and a strong aged buildings, blew over a ere a dozen men had taken and injured four of them, one Ten cars were blown from the the Santa Fe yards. Not a windmill is left standing in the the storm, and the damage in ry is incalculable.

SEVENTEEN BODIES FOUND.

...d Evidently Been Frozen to Death in Greenland.

...phia, Pa., July 9.—The bodies en men, apparently the victims fated exploring party, were disn April last in a small cave in a desolate part of the south-Greenland by Capt. Hans Anderne barque Serene, which arrived terday from Ivigtut.

IN THE DENTIST'S CHAIR.

...ock, Ont., July 9.—William a baker, employed by J. Mcconfectioner, expired yesterday in Dr. A. M. Clark's dentist while having some teeth extract-had for some time been troubled e-ache, and desired to have his moved while under the influence form. So Dr. McLurge was to administer it. Four teeth n removed, and during the ex-of the fifth he suddenly gasped upposed to have almost immediexpired.

WILKINGSTON HAPPENINGS.

(Special to the Star.)
 ...on, Ont., July 9.—Mrs. Leroy, the captain of the Ottawa barge ham, was drowned at the foot of reet last night. She slipped off into the water. The body was d ten minutes after the acci-t life was extinct. Her maiden as Fleming, and with her hus-ed at Ottawa. The barge was of the tug Florence. m Andrews, who eight years ago tentenced to imprisonment for life ing the Salvation Army barracks city, will be released next month Minister of Justice.

KYRIE WILL BE PRESENT.

...r's Quay, July 9.—Neither the ights nor the twenty-raters will ay. It is intended that the Val-hall sail for America before the he month and it was stated that ould take part in no more races ut the committee of the Camp-Regatta Company, which Mr.
 Walker, the owner of the Ailsa, ominent figure, have extracted a from Lord Dunraven that the ht will be present even if she n racing trim. The regatta will ce on July 17, after which the will sail for New York.

All round the spot raged the turbu-
 lent waters, and the noise of the rapids
 two hundred yards distant from shore
 caused many of the party to utter a word of thanks at their escape from
 such a narrow call. It is doubtful if
 another party of Celestials anxious to
 gain access to Uncle Sam's domains will undertake another such trip.

The whole party went onward with
 the evident intention of "crossing the line" near Hemmingford and Huntingdon.

Owing to the energy put forth by the United States Customs officers the smugglers are kept continually on the lookout for pastures new, for no sooner do they get two or three batches of Celestials safely "over the lines" than the officers are after them. The money now paid by the Celestials to get across is so tempting as to cause the smugglers, who are in most cases Americans, to devise schemes of the most hazardous nature to earn the rewards. Probably the shrewdest of this organized band of smugglers between Montreal, Toronto and Boston is a wealthy Chinese resident of the latter city who visits Montreal quite frequently to arrange for consignment of "live stock," and to also give the smugglers "tips" as to the movements of the United States Secret Service men, as, strange to say, this son of the Flowery Kingdom has a keen insight into the workings of the authorities, and in many instances the smugglers' headquarters here are aware that a Secret Service man is on his way to one of their rendezvous before the train is two miles out from Boston.
 This is the man that also manipulated the strings for the smugglers of sul-fonal and phenacetin, and was the first to hit upon the hollow cane and umbrella handles for conveying these expensive drugs into the States.

But now that the hot weather is on, there is a falling off in the demand for the dump, so the smugglers direct all their time to the Celestials, because there is more money in the latter at this time of the year. With the advent of cold weather commences the "running in" of the drugs and furs again by the "underground route" to Uncle Sam's territory.

In conversation with a Star reporter last night a prominent local Chinaman admitted that the coffin scheme originated with him and that they were manufactured here and shipped to St.
 John, N. B., where they were put together and used in smuggling Chinese over the lines into Vanceboro, Mex.
 When spoken to regarding the Sorel Island rendezvous, the speaker laughed heartily and said that if it had not been for the United States officers getting on their track considerable money could have been made by this latter route. He boasted openly of the many exploits he had with the customs officials and concluded by stating that there were fully five hundred Chinamen here at present anxiously waiting to "cross the lines."

AGRICULTURAL CONVENTION.

His Grace Bishop Laflèche, of Three Rivers, the Hon. L. O. Taillon, Hon. L.
 Beaubien and others passed through the

SICK HEADACHE

Positively cured by the Little Pills.

They also relieve Distress from D Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating.
 A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Headache, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, TORPID LIVER, Regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable.

Small Pill. Small Price.

FREDK. McKEOWN &

Civil Engineers and General Contractors

Constructors of Water Works, Gas Works, Railroads, Subways, Tunnels, Bridges, Trunk Rock Asphalt for P
 Sewers, Dams, Wharfs, Dredg

246 ST. JAMES STREET, MON 132eod

GOING ON NOW

F. Lapointe's
 cheap sale in F ture and Bed
 Open Evenings
 10 o'clock.

1551 ST. CATHERIN

ere injured, one named Snyder.
 Kas., July 9.—Four inches of here Sunday, and a strong aged buildings, blew over a ere a dozen men had taken and injured four of them, one Ten cars were blown from the the Santa Fe yards. Not windmill is left standing in the the storm, and the damage in rry is incalculable.

TEEN BODIES FOUND.

and Evidently Been Frozen to Death in Greenland.

phia, Pa., July 9.—The bodies en men, apparently the victims fated exploring party, were dis- n April last, in a small cave in n a desolate part of the south- Greenland by Capt. Hans Ander- oe barque Serene, which arrived terday from Ivigtut.

IN THE DENTIST'S CHAIR.

ock, Ont., July 9.—William a baker, employed by J. Mc- confectioner, expired yesterday n in Dr. A. M. Clark's dentist while having some teeth extract- had for some time been troubled e-ache, and desired to have his moved while under the influence form. So Dr. McLurge was to administer it. Four teeth n removed, and during the ex- of the fifth he suddenly gasped upposed to have almost immedi- pired.

NGSTON HAPPENINGS.

(Special to the Star.)
 on, Ont., July 9.—Mrs. Lerey, the captain of the Ottawa barge ham, was drowned at the foot of reet last night. She slipped off n into the water. The body was d ten minutes after the acci- t life was extinct. Her maiden as Fleming, and with her hus- ed at Ottawa. The barge was of the tug Florence. n Andrews, who eight years ago tenced to imprisonment for life ing the Salvation Army barracks ity, will be released next month Minister of Justice.

KYRIE WILL BE PRESENT.

r's Quay, July 9.—Neither the chts nor the twenty-raters will ay. It is intended that the Val- hall sail for America before the he month and it was stated that uld take part in no more races ut the committee of the Camp- Regatta Company, which Mr. Walker, the owner of the Ailsa, omment figure, have extracted a from Lord Dunraven that the ht will be present even if she n racing trim. The regatta will ce on July 17, after which the will sail for New York.

All round the spot raged the turbu- lent waters, and the noise of the rapids two hundred yards distant from shore caused many of the party to utter a word of thanks at their escape from such a narrow call. It is doubtful if another party of Celestials anxious to gain access to Uncle Sam's domains will undertake another such trip.

The whole party went forward with the evident intention of "crossing the line" near Hemmingford and Huntingdon.

Owing to the energy put forth by the United States Customs officers the smugglers are kept continually on the lookout for pastures new, for no sooner do they get two or three batches of Celestials safely "over the lines" than the officers are after them. The money now paid by the Celestials to get across is so tempt- ing as to cause the smugglers, who are in most cases Americans, to devise schemes of the most hazardous nature to earn the rewards. Probably the shrewdest of this organized band of smugglers between Montreal, Toronto and Boston is a wealthy Chinese resident of the latter city who visits Montreal quite frequently to arrange for consignment of "live stock," and to also give the smugglers "tips" as to the movements of the United States Secret Service men, as, strange to say, this son of the Flowery Kingdom has a keen insight into the workings of the authorities, and in many instances the smugglers' headquarters here are aware that a Secret Service man is on his way to one of their rendezvous before the train is two miles out from Boston. This is the man that also manipulated the strings for the smugglers of sul- fonal and phenacetin, and was the first to hit upon the hollow cane and umbrella handles for conveying these expensive drugs into the States.

But now that the hot weather is on, there is a falling off in the demand for the dump, so the smugglers direct all their time to the Celestials, because there is more money in the latter at this time of the year. With the advent of cold weather commences the "running in" of the drugs and furs again by the "underground route" to Uncle Sam's territory.

In conversation with a Star reporter last night a prominent local Chinaman admitted that the coffin scheme originated with him and that they were manufactured here and shipped to St. John, N. B., where they were put together and used in smuggling Chinese over the lines into Vanceboro, Mex. When spoken to regarding the Sorel Island rendezvous, the speaker laughed heartily and said that if it had not been for the United States officers getting on their track considerable money could have been made by this latter route. He boasted openly of the many exploits he had with the customs officials and concluded by stating that there were fully five hundred Chinamen here at present anxiously waiting to "cross the lines."

AGRICULTURAL CONVENTION.

His Grace Bishop Lafleche, of Three Rivers, the Hon. L. O. Taillon, Hon. L. Beaubien and others passed through the

SICK HEADACHE

Positively cured by the Little Pills.

They also relieve Distress from D. Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Headache, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, TORPID LIVER, and all Bilious Disorders. Regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable.

Small Pill. Small Price.

FREDK. McKEOWN &

Civil Engineers and General Contractors

Constructors of Water Works, Gas Works, Railroads, Subway Tunnels, Bridges, Trinids, Rock Asphalt for P Sowers, Dams, Wharfs, Dredgi

246 ST. JAMES STREET, MO 132eod

GOING ON N

F. Lapointe's cheap sale in F ture and Bed Open Evenings 10 o'clock.

1531 ST. CATHERIN